

I am at the informal hearing in Atlanta regarding the FCC's possible relaxation of rules and regulations regarding the ownership of media outlets. I strongly urge all concerned to uphold the current controls. Diversity of opinion and debate are vital to the best interests of our citizenry. The broadcast media are held in trust for the people, and allowing for the further consolidation of media in this country runs counter to that trust.

Thank you for your attention.